SYLLABUS REQUIREMENTS

GENERAL INFORMATION

• Your syllabus is both a document about the course content, goals, requirements, and expectations and a guide for students to the kind of teaching and learning they can expect in your class and invites them to take responsibility for their own learning.

• You are encouraged to prepare an alternative instructional strategy to provide continuity of instruction in the event of unexpected course cancellations (official closings, delayed openings, etc.): directed readings, special assignments, online activities, or the like.

• Reviewing the syllabus with your students at the first course meeting is advised.

POSTING

It is strongly encouraged that you post a draft of the syllabus by the date students are registering (fall courses, April registration; winter courses; October registration; spring courses; November registration; summer courses, February registration). However, your syllabus must be available on the first day the class meets and must be posted in Blackboard. All revisions must be announced and posted labelling the syllabus a revision and providing the date of the revision.

• Disability Services: Rutgers University welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University’s educational programs. In order to receive consideration for reasonable accommodations, you must complete and submit the Registration Form, schedule and complete an intake meeting, and submit appropriate documentation. If your request for reasonable accommodations is approved, you will receive a Letter of Accommodations (LOA), which you should present privately to the instructor as early in the semester as possible. Accommodations are not retroactive and are effective only upon submission of the LOA to the instructor. Please begin the process by completing and submitting the Registration Form, Applying for Services, available at the website below.
